A close-up photograph of a hand holding a small green seedling with three leaves, growing out of a single coin. The coin is part of a stack of several more coins. In the background, there are two more stacks of coins, one taller than the other, also growing from the soil. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green, suggesting an outdoor setting.

Our motivation

- This project aims to address European youth's financial illiteracy. Youth is transitioning into the phase where they make important financial decisions, facing a complex financial world filled with challenges and opportunities.
- The EU reports that 52% of adults are financially literate, with Northern Europe doing better. Approximately half of EU adults lack a full comprehension of basic financial concepts, according to the OECD/INFE 2020 international survey on adult financial literacy.
- The consortium will focus on youth and young adults who are still trying to find their way in the market while also learning how to manage their spending.
